

Vote of Thanks at the end of the 2022 APPMC by Albert Cheng

Good afternoon, ladies, and gentlemen,

As the conference ends, I like to thank our sponsors and speakers for your steadfast support and generosity. I also want to thank our delegates, either by travelling across the world to join us physically or by participating virtually despite not being able to grace us with your physical presence. Because of you, we can make this hybrid conference possible. I hope you have benefitted from the 1.5 days of discussions and networking opportunities.

I also would like to thank the Eventell Global Advisory team. We have been partnering with them for the past few years, and they have done a tremendous job, led by Vatsa.

To make our event more successful next year, we would like you to answer a very simple questionnaire, which we will send to you by email. Please send it back to us so that we know your feedback and improve further. Let us know if we can include any new elements for next year's conference as well.

Next year's conference will be held around the same time of the year, so mark your dates. Over the past few years, we have been organising our conferences in Singapore. Perhaps, we should venture into our neighbouring ASEAN countries like Bangkok? Let us know where we should go next, whether we should organise the conference in Singapore or somewhere else in ASEAN. We will take your ideas on board and aim to surpass your expectations next time.

The conference has ended, but our work has only just begun. As the industry voice in Singapore, we will be considering the discussions and ideas exchanged to support the development of the Asia Pacific market.

Finally, we would like to thank my tiny team, Margaret and Fabian, all of our members for putting your effort and trust in SBMA for organising this year's APPMC, as always. Hope to see you all next year!
